Activity Overview

As part of the “Cultural Carnival” unit, teachers led young children to visit the Sam Tung Uk Museum, a restored historic Hakka walled village open to the public. During the visit, children observed architectural features firsthand and explored exhibition zones showcasing traditional Hakka life in clothing, food, housing, and transport. Starting from the symbolic artwork on the entrance gate, they interpreted traditional meanings and studied the layout of the building. The exhibits successfully engaged their curiosity and deepened their appreciation for Chinese culture.
